

ABOUT ANTICIPATE JOY

Anticipate Joy is an innovative mental wellness company that supports personal growth through a HIPAA compliant online professional counseling platform. Anticipate Joy creates an introduction between the client and the therapist along with the technology that enables the client to have therapy sessions with a licensed mental health provider within the convenience of their own home. YOU select a therapist. YOU decide how you want to interact: audio, video, or text. YOU decide when a counseling session will work best.
